Questions and Answers

1. Question: I plan on attending the February 18th pre-proposal meeting but I do have a question regarding the schedule. Looking at the deadline to submit questions the following week and answers on March 4, followed by a formal proposal submission the following week, the schedule seems to be very condensed to allow prospective bidders the opportunity to perform a thorough due diligence and incorporate new information into a response. I realize that formal award will follow (perhaps in April) and the current contract ends in July but is there any possibility to revisit the schedule to provide more time in between these dates and extend the deadline for submission of the proposal.

Answer: The City will not extend or modify any due dates on this solicitation.

All other provisions of the Contract Documents shall remain unchanged. Each Offeror should ensure that they have received all addenda and amendments to this RFP before submitting their proposal.
